UNITED STATES SENATE

Committee on Foreign Relations

The Chairman of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations this morning announced that the Committee had agreed without objection to the following motion by Senator Morse:

"That the Committee instruct the staff to select an hour at the earliest possible time to invite representatives of the State Department and the Central Intelligence Agency to discuss with the Committee in Executive Session the recent incidents in Lebanon, South America and elsewhere, following which the Committee will decide on a course of action to be taken with respect to further studies of United States policy in relation to Latin America."
